

LEADING TOGETHER TO ADVANCE 21ST CENTURY LEARNING FOR EVERY STUDENT

The real power of the EdLeader21 Network is in the interactions and connections among future-thinking school systems across the country.

When a district joins EdLeader21, the national network of Battelle for Kids, its educators are connected to a powerful network of school systems committed to 21st century learning for every student.

COLLABORATION

Superintendent Roundtable

Superintendents from across the country leverage the power of the network and connect with one another to share experiences in the journey towards a vision of 21st century learning.

Leadership Roundtables

Educators in similar roles from across the country support one another in implementing equitable, deeper learning experiences for every student, while growing personal networks:

- Teachers: Including instructional support roles
- Principals: Building-level leadership including assistant principals
- District Leaders: Central office administrators including but not limited to chief academic officers, assistant superintendents, directors of curriculum/assessment

Study Groups

- Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: Members collaborate to address the barriers that prevent equitable implementation of deeper learning for every student, especially underserved populations.
- Assessment: Members collaborate to curate resources for implementing, improving, and scaling the assessment of 21st century skills and mindsets.

Collaboration Platform

Members connect online to access tools and resources developed and curated by network members and Battelle for Kids to support 21st century learning implementation.

Our district is proud to be a member of this professional learning network for 21st century education leaders. We are benefiting greatly from collaborating with other schools and districts who are taking on similar challenges across the country.

—DR. KAREN CHESER | Superintendent, Ft. Thomas Independent Schools

EdLeader21 ANNUAL EVENT

The most engaging and inspiring annual experience with like-minded education leaders to network, share ideas, learn from one another, and plan for the future. Each year, there is a Portrait to Practice Fair where educators share artifacts, lessons learned, and insights that illustrate how 21st century learning becomes a reality for students.

ADDITIONAL PROFESSIONAL LEARNING OFFERINGS AT SPECIAL PRICING FOR NETWORK MEMBERS

Assessment21

A unique online learning experience designed to support educators in understanding 21st century competencies, designing assessments for deeper learning, using rubrics to score complex student work, and utilizing student-led, engaged assessment practices.

COMING SOON Principals Academy

This year-long experience provides school leaders with the opportunity to learn about implementing 21st century learning for all students.

The Student Experience™ Survey

This suite of tools provides a broader picture of what matters most to a student's success now and in the future. It begins with a student perception survey that captures student voice around hope, engagement, and belonging in a 21st century learning environment. With real-time reporting, educators receive essential, reliable, and timely student feedback to inform practice.

Dare to Lead™ Workshop

Based on the research of Dr. Brené Brown, this program focuses on developing courage-building skills to help individuals, teams, and organizations move towards daring leadership.

Customized Professional Learning

This offering includes both in-person and virtual professional learning options and is designed to meet the school system's unique needs to build capacity to implement 21st century learning for every student.

21ST CENTURY EDUCATION RESOURCES

PORTRAIT OF A GRADUATE

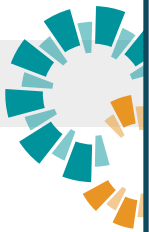

Locally developed and globally positioned, a school system's Portrait of a Graduate is created with the community to identify the 21st century skills, mindsets, and competencies that students need to be lifelong learners and contributors. The Portrait of a Graduate website includes tools and resources to help engage the community to develop a local Portrait of a Graduate.

PORTRAIT OF AN EDUCATOR

Locally developed, a school system's Portrait of an Educator is created through the engagement of a design team representing diverse perspectives and voices, including teachers and building and central office leaders. The Portrait of an Educator helps identify the supports educators need to shift practice, as they implement learning experiences, aligned to the locally developed Portrait of a Graduate.

Resource Library

Members have exclusive access to customizable 21st century education resources including rubrics, implementation guides, online professional learning courses, videos, as well as sample artifacts from other school systems.

The opportunity to collaborate and innovate with other district leaders from across the nation and to form new partnerships centered on school improvement and student advocacy has been invaluable.
