INVITATION TO EXHIBIT

Hosted by Battelle for Kids and the National Rural Education Association (NREA), this event convenes a diverse community of education leaders to learn, collaborate, and lead 21st century learning in rural schools. By leading together, we help communities innovate and leverage local assets to create meaningful learning experiences for rural students.

Join hundreds of national experts, K-12 and higher education practitioners, leading researchers, policymakers, and philanthropic leaders from the country to learn, network, and collaborate on the topics at the forefront of rural education.

Take advantage of two full days to connect with key influencers and decision makers in their organizations, districts, and schools.
